REPORT

OF THE

SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

DISTRICT No. 1.

J. Ellis, Prudential Committee. In the summer term, Miss L. J. Bunten was employed, and in the winter term, Miss E. A. Tilton. Both of them rendered very valuable service in all respects.

DISTRICT No. 2.

Byron W. Clough, Prudential Committee. Miss L. Cora Clough was employed for both terms. This was her first attempt at teaching. If she ever does better, she must make very extra efforts. Her success was excellent for one so young in years, as well as in teaching.

DISTRICT No. 3.

T. M. May, Prudential Committee. Miss E. M. Jewell made her first attempt at teaching in the spring term, and though quite young, succeeded quite well.

For the fall term, Miss Luthera Wheeler was employed with more than her usual success. She succeeded in correcting some very bad faults which appeared in the reading classes, and in creating an uncommon enthusiasm in the different studies—one that continued after the close of the school.

DISTRICT No. 4.

W. C. Saltmarsh, Prudential Committee. Miss Ada A. Noyes made her first attempt at teaching in the summer term, and Miss M. Alice Saltmarsh was employed for the fall term. They rendered service of which no reasonable complaint could be made, and we are glad to say that as yet, we have heard of none.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

S. Sargent, Prudential Committee. Miss G. A. Osgood taught this school one term of eleven weeks. Though apparently faithful, yet her success was only fair. There was a lack of enthusiasm, and some of the scholars read and recited in a tone of voice, far too low.

DISTRICT NO. 6.

J. M. Colby, Prudential Committee. Mr. Colby employed two very good teachers, for two very short terms. Either of them, in a term of ten weeks, could have been of far more use to the school, than both of them could in two terms of six weeks each. Miss Jessie F. Adams, and Miss Mary E. Bennett, were the teachers.

DISTRICT NO. 7.

W. H. Hammond, Prudential Committee. Miss S. E. Colby taught this school for over eleven weeks, with very marked success. Her labors seemed to be satisfactory every way.

DISTRICT NO. 8.

S. Caswell, Prudential Committee. Miss Rosie Wooster spent nine weeks instructing this school, apparently, with entire success.

DISTRICT NO. 9.

R. M. Ordway, Prudential Committee. Mr. J. C. Hammond has taught this school so many terms that he has made it one of the best, if not the best school in town, though they have but one term a year. More attention is given to the higher studies than in any other school. There is but one class in grammar that can compare with its class. The teacher, scholars, and we guess, the parents, work for good schools.

DISTRICT NO. 10.

L. C. Goodhue, Prudential Committee. Miss S. E. Colby was engaged in this school for twelve weeks, but for some reason, her success was not so great as in District No. 7.

DISTRICT NO. 11.

George Short, Prudential Committee. Miss G. A. Osgood was employed for the summer term, and her success was satisfactory. The school appeared well. For the winter term Miss L. Wheeler was engaged, and where she presides there is no failure—order and success appear.

DISTRICT NO. 12.

E. A. Wetherbee, Prudential Committee. Mr. J. P. Brown was employed for seven weeks in the warmest of the weather. It is a marvel that he could do so well, with so small a school in such warm weather.

DISTRICT NO. 13.

L. Page, Prudential Committee. It is enough to say that Miss E. A. Tilton was engaged in this school for ten weeks. Money spent in the support of such a teacher, yields far more largely than it can to lay in the treasury of the town.

DISTRICT NO. 14.

A. H. Colby, Prudential Committee. Miss Rosie Wooster was employed for both terms with good success, especially, considering that about one-third of her scholars were foreigners, and could speak but few words of our language.

Most of the schools have been very good. Some have been far above the average. When a fair teacher, obedient pupils, parents, and friends work in harmony, a good school is inevitable.

The books introduced are Franklin's Readers, Harper's Geography, and Meservey's Book-keeping. The rest of the books should be made uniform as soon as convenient. Thus, the number of classes can be reduced, and much time saved. Time, patient endeavor and a little expense, will be of great use to our schools.

According to a recent law given us by our law-makers, those who teach must be prepared to give instruction "in physiology and hygiene, with special reference to the effects of alcoholic drinks, and narcotics upon the human system."

Some of the Registers have been so poorly kept, or filled out, that it has not been possible for me to make out my report to the School Commissioner according to law, or as is desirable. A word to the wise is sufficient.
